

WEST SCRANTON

EASTER MUSIC IN CHURCHES

EXCELLENT PROGRAMMES RENDERED AT THE CHURCHES.

Rev. E. A. Boyd Preached His Final Sermon at the Plymouth Congregational Church Last Evening—Mozart's Twelfth Mass Sung at St. Patrick's Catholic Church—Services in the Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran, Congregational, Presbyterian Churches—New Notes.

The church people of West Scranton were given a full measure of Easter music yesterday morning, afternoon and evening, and at all of the services the choirs were augmented by many capable soloists and chorus singers. Elaborate decorations were in evidence in all the churches, and the pastors spoke of the day and its significance in specially prepared sermons.

Plymouth Congregational. Rev. E. A. Boyd, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, preached his final sermon to that congregation last evening, the church being filled to overflowing. He did not refer to his severance at any great length, but spoke of the high plans for which he labored, and urged his hearers to continue along that line.

During his sermon, he scored the evil influences of existing social conditions, and laid particular stress on the demoralizing effects of the saloon. The Sunday school held Easter exercises in the morning, under the direction of the superintendent, E. E. Evans, and the chorister, Eben Evans. Rev. Boyle also spoke. The new piano was used for the first time.

Methodist Episcopal. The choir, under the direction of Prof. David Owens, and ably assisted by the organist, Miss Edna D. Evans, rendered a most excellent programme. The anthems were all well rendered, the solo parts being ably sustained by Tallo M. Evans, Thomas Stephens, Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. A. H. Eyrone, Miss Mary D. Owens and David E. Hughes.

Jackson Street Baptist. The choir of the Jackson Street Baptist church rendered a fine programme of music yesterday at both morning and evening services. The pastor, Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, D. D., preached in the morning on "Mary and Her Risen Lord," and several appropriate palms, cut flowers and potted plants in profusion. In the morning, the usual choir beautifully rendered several anthems very appropriate to the occasion, and in addition to this, the audience was delighted with the solos of Miss Ruth E. Beddoe, alto, and E. E. Lord, basso. The pastor, Rev. S. F. Mathews, gave a short but interesting talk on "The Resurrection."

The whole evening service was given over to the rendition of the sacred cantata, "Easter Dawn," under the direction of Mrs. B. G. Beddoe, chorister. The opening solo, "The Grave Itself a Garden," by E. E. Lord, was sung in a fine voice, and this was followed by the solo, "As It Began to Dawn," by Thomas G. Williams, which was also rendered in his usual pleasing manner. The duet, "They Have Taken Away My Lord," by Mrs. Thomas James and Miss Ruth E. Beddoe, was one of the sweetest parts of the cantata, and the singers in its rendition brought out its soft and beautiful melody.

The quartette, "Fear Not Ye," by Mrs. James, Miss Beddoe and Messrs. Evans and Lord, was given in a fine manner and received much commendation. This was followed by the cantata, "Hall, Happy Morning," by Mrs. Lillian Osborne. This was Mrs. Osborne's first appearance as a soloist before a Scranton congregation, and her sweetness and power of voice, combined with her charming manner of rendering the solo, was superb.

The closing chorus, "Christ Is Risen Today," was given by the full choir and won universal commendation from all. St. Mark's Lutheran. At St. Mark's Lutheran church, matins service was conducted at 6 a. m., by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Kamey, Ph. D., and there was holy communion at 10:30 o'clock. At this service the choir sang several numbers, and the solo, "Resurrection," was effectively sung by Miss Nellie Markwick. Vesper services were held at 7:30 p. m., at which Joseph Phelps, rendered a specially prepared programme at the 10:30 o'clock mass. The selections were: "Kyrie," "Gloria," "Credo," "Regina Coeli," "Sanctus," "Agnus Dei," and the recessional "Te Deum."

Miss Rose Conway, the organist, was in charge, and the soloists were Miss Helen Keegan, soprano; Miss Julia Hughes, alto; Mr. O'Malley, tenor, and Frank Dovic, basso. St. Patrick's Church. Mozart's Twelfth Mass was sung by St. Patrick's church choir yesterday morning, under the direction of the organist, Miss Mary Johnson, together with a number of other difficult selections. The solo parts were sustained by William Vanston, Kathryn Johnson, John Shaughnessy, Margaret Kelly, Mary Jordan, Michael Donagan, Lillian McDevitt, John Flanagan, Bert Johnson and Louie McHugh.

The other singers who materially assisted in rendering the music were Anna McFadden, Anna Dunningan, Fannie McGe, Laura Nealon, Annie Doud, Helen McDevitt, Messrs. Martin, James Degan and Frank Croegan. First Baptist Church. At the First Baptist church yesterday was enjoyed one of the most delightful and interesting Easter services in its history. Under the personal direction of William M. Fowler, the church had been decorated with Hampton Street Methodist. Rev. James Benninger, pastor of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, preached a very appropriate sermon yesterday morning on "The Resurrection of Christ." The choir sang several Easter anthems very appropriately. During the afternoon rally was conducted under the direction of the Sunday school. Recitations, solos, etc., were rendered. At the evening service Rev. Benninger preached a timely sermon on "Mary's Easter Experience." The three services were largely attended.

Tabernacle Congregational. The choir of the Tabernacle Congregational church, under the direction of Hugh A. Jones, sang Easter anthems at both services yesterday, and the pastor, Rev. D. P. Jones, preached sermons of much strength and helpfulness. The children of the Sunday school sang the sacred cantata, "Resurrection Day" at the evening service in a manner that would be worthy of much older voices.

First Welsh Baptist. An English sermon by Rev. D. D. Hopkins was preached at the First Welsh Baptist church yesterday morning, and solos were rendered by Thomas G. Thoburn, John Evans and Miss Elizabeth Lewis. Special music was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Prof. W. W. Evans.

At the 6 o'clock service Miss Estella Thomas, Miss Elizabeth May, Howells, Miss Verna Williams, Miss Wynfaney Beynon and Thomas Beddoe sang solos, and Thomas G. Thoburn and John Evans sang a duet. Fourth Ward Mission. The cantata, "The Easter Promise," was rendered by the children of the Fourth Ward Mission school yesterday afternoon under the direction of W. W. Evans, Elizabeth Hughes and Catherine Davies. An interesting programme was rendered. The choruses were rendered with orchestral accompaniment and exercises were enjoyed by many parents and friends. The solos and recitations were given by Edith Hopkins, Anna Isaacs, Thomas Beddoe, Margaret Hopkins, Amy Geal, Bessie Richards, Penina Richards, Minnie Barth, Ethel Decker and others.

"The Dialogue of Birds." The above cantata, or operetta, promises to be the best musical treat that the public has heard for many years. The beautiful strains of the oratorio "Biodven," that has charmed hundreds of thousands, will be heard tomorrow evening to great advantage, while the young talent that will be presented to the audience on this occasion will delight the most indifferent critic.

The English performance announced for April 7 has been postponed until April 18. All tickets will stand good for the latter date. Everyone should make an effort to be at Bellevue church Tuesday evening early, so as to secure good seats.

Handsome Remembrances. The employees of the Davis Coal and Coke company are presented to their superintendent, Captain B. S. Phillips.

THE HOMELEST MAN IN SCRANTON As well as the widows, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 25c and 50c.

GREEN RIDGE. Mrs. Thomas Shepherd, of Sanderson avenue, is visiting friends in Philadelphia. Dickson Kays and William Brock, of St. John's Military school, are spending the Easter vacation at their homes on Sanderson avenue. Mrs. J. B. Van Bergen, of Sanderson avenue, celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday Saturday. In honor of this event many of her friends called to offer their congratulations and during the afternoon hours Mrs. Van Bergen assisted by Mrs. M. R. Kays, held an informal reception. H. A. Robbins, of Hartford, spent Easter with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Bayley, of Green Ridge street. Chevalier Luigi Angelini, pastor of the Waldensian church, Forino, Italy, occupied the pulpit at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church last evening and delivered an address both interesting and instructive.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Taylor and family, of Capone avenue, have been elected at the Hotel Jersey since shipping their household effects, expect to leave for their new home in Mount St. Clair today. Rev. Benjamin L. Hart, formerly of Blighton, N. Y., preached from the pulpit of the Green Ridge Baptist church yesterday morning and evening. The services at the different churches were in point of excellent addresses and surpassing music unusually good yesterday and the attendance was the largest in years.

The patrons of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church presented an interesting scene yesterday when the primary department, numbering 264, gathered there. The rooms were beautifully decorated, and a large number of the parents of the pupils were present as visitors. Conrad's orchestra played several selections. Dr. I. J. Lansing made a most pleasing address. A beautiful custom of this class is to have each pupil who has passed a birthday during the week bring as many pennies as they are years old, for the mission box, when prayer is offered that the giver and the gift may be blessed. Yesterday there were seven birthday children and seven names were added to the credit roll. The singing by the class was excellent and a short but very interesting programme was particularly pleasing. Mrs. W. was also a recitation by Little Adelaide Hunt.

a prominent resident of West Scranton, who was working at Henry, West Virginia, a fine solid gold watch and chain as a token of the high esteem in which he is held. Mrs. Phillips was presented with a diamond and turquoise ring. Captain Phillips will, on April 1, accept a more lucrative position with the Lehigh Valley Coal company at Shenandoah, Pa.

He labored under many difficulties at Henry in sinking two shafts, and at great odds overcame them all. His departure is greatly regretted by all. The High Score Bowlers. Some of the highest bowling scores ever rolled in the city have been made on the Capitol cigar store alleys. All the top-notchers who have tried the alleys pronounce them superior to all the others in the city.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES. The postponed game between the Electric City Wheelmen's bowlers and the West End Wheelmen, of Wilkes-Barre, will take place on the latter's alleys tonight. Andrew Weisenfuh and family, of Chestnut street, will move to Lake Sheridan, where they have purchased a summer home.

The local druggists and their assistants were permitted to attend Easter services yesterday morning, the stores being closed from 10 to 12:15 o'clock. A young child of Mr. and Mrs. Eleanor Davis, of Edwards court, fell from the porch in front of her home recently, and struck her head. She was rendered unconscious, but soon revived. The Royal Crusaders are requested to meet Wednesday evening in the First Welsh Congregational church.

Mrs. Agnes Durascavitch, of Garfield avenue, was committed to the county jail recently by Alderman Ruddy, charged with habitual intoxication and neglecting her children. The only social event of note in West Scranton this evening will be the dance of the Irrepressible club of St. Leo's, St. David's and St. Patrick's. The club is now known as Company D, First regiment, C. T. A. U. of A. They promise an enjoyable time to all who attend.

The police have been on the lookout for the 8-year-old son of Mrs. M. L. Beech, of 197 Jackson street, who strayed away from his home a few days ago. He wore a green velvet cap, dark flannel waist and corduroy pants. Rev. S. F. Mathews, pastor of the First Baptist church, will read a paper at the Baptist ministerial conference this morning.

The funeral of the late John Keehn, who was killed in Tripp's slope recently, occurred yesterday afternoon from the family residence on North Bromley avenue. Short services were held in St. John's German Catholic church, Rev. F. A. Fricker officiating. Burial was made in the German Catholic cemetery.

The ladies of the First Welsh Baptist church will serve supper in the lecture room this afternoon and evening, from 4 to 10 o'clock. The members of the Plymouth Congregational church will tender a farewell party to Rev. E. A. Boyd and family this evening. West Scranton council, Catholic Mutual Benevolent association, will tender a reception this evening in Young Men's institute hall, to Thomas J. O'Neal, of Auburn, N. Y., supreme president of the order.

An entertainment and social for the benefit of Mrs. John L. Sullivan, of Clarke's place, will be held in Washington hall this evening. The remains of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, of North Main avenue, were interred in the Cambria cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The ladies' female choir, under the leadership of Mrs. D. B. Thomas, will rehearse this evening at Silas Rosser's music studio, at 3 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. A part practice of the tenors of the Oxford Glee club will be held on Tuesday evening in Co-operative hall. At yesterday's rehearsal, David Jenkins was elected chorister, and David Stephens, assistant chorister.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Attorney Walter S. Bevan left last night for New York, and will be absent several days. Miss May Magee, of Paterson, N. J., who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. L. Davis, of Main avenue and Jackson street, returned home yesterday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lattimore, Mrs. Peter Spangle, of Port Jervis, N. Y., and A. J. Lattimore, of Hartford, Conn., have been called here by the serious illness of Mrs. S. L. Dean, of 305 Norton avenue.

Miss Mabel Dersheimer, of South Main avenue, is visiting relatives in West Pittston. Ralph Keeth, of Tenth street, is visiting relatives at Clark's Summit. Mrs. C. L. Avey, of Oxford street, is entertaining Mrs. James Conroy, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Miss Leah Heath, of Scranton street, is visiting friends in Boston.

A. Forest Dersheimer, of South Main avenue, has resumed his studies in Bucknell university. John McDermott, of Sloan avenue, is seriously ill. Miss Sarah Abrams, of New York, is visiting West Scranton friends and relatives. Miss Maud Miller, of Shickshinney, is visiting Mrs. Linton, of South Bromley avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McHale, of Luzerne street, are both ill at their home. Mrs. G. H. Kresky and sons, of North Sumner avenue, spent Easter Sunday with relatives in Tunkhannock. Misses Margaret and Agnes Miller, of Johnstown, N. Y., are visiting Miss Bertha Carson, of South Main avenue.

Miss Jessie Miller, of Waverly, N. Y., is visiting Mrs. Charles Locker, of North Lincoln avenue. Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Sperl, of Susquehanna, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Knowlton, of Tripp park.

South Scranton Notes. Easter Services Were Well Attended. Presentation of a Baptismal Font to Presbyterian Church. Easter services in all the churches of this side were well attended. At St. John's church, a special programme of music had been arranged and was rendered by the choir, assisted by Miss Kate Reardon. In the rendition of "Kyrie," "Gloria," "Credo," "Benedictus" and "Agnus Dei," the solo parts were ably sustained by the Misses Catherine Coyne, Winifred Melvin, Anna Moffitt, Mary Murray and Gertrude McGee, John Courtney, Patrick Breen, Hubert Coyne and Thomas Needham.

The morning services at the Hickory Street Baptist church were in charge of Pastor J. C. Schmitt, who selected his text from the Epistle according to St. Peter, 1:3-5. The evening services were rendered interesting by the fact that four adult persons were baptized. The text for the evening was taken from the Songs of Solomon, ninety-fifth psalm, fifth verse, the theme being "The Lord's Voice." At the Church of Peace, the services were well attended, and the class commenced last Sunday's partook of the Lord's Supper for the first time. At 7:30 p. m. the regular services were dispensed with and children's exercises were held. At the Christ Lutheran church, special services, intended for the class confirmed last Sunday, were held, and they afterwards partook of the Lord's Supper. A special feature, and one that came as a welcome surprise, both to pastor and congregation of the Hickory Street Presbyterian church, was the presentation of a massive baptismal font, which was given to the church in memory of a beloved and revered father and mother, by well-known residents of this side. The donors are: John and Henry Scheuer, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Hafner, Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Lynn, sons and daughters of the late Jacob and Louisa Scheuer, who were among the early settlers of this side. The gift came too late to prepare for its formal presentation yesterday, and the transfer ceremonies have therefore been postponed until next Sunday.

Laid at Rest. The remains of the late Mrs. Mary Miller, whose death occurred Thursday at 622 Maple street, were interred in the Pittston avenue cemetery Saturday afternoon. Services were held at 2 p. m. in the house by Rev. W. A. Nordt, who spoke feelingly on the high moral and Christian character of the deceased.

The remains were borne to their last resting place by Jacob Frigg, Charles Kellerman, Philip Pfeiffer and Fred Elkins. NUBS OF NEWS. Members of General Grant commandery, Knights of Malta, visited Wilkes-Barre, Friday night, and were the guests of John Knox commandery, during the exemplification of the Red Cross and Sepulchre degrees.

Many residents of this side will attend the grand Easter Monday hall in Music hall this evening, which is to take place under the auspices of the popular P. O. S. of A. Bugle, Pipe and Drum corps.

Dr. Stealy's Lung Healing Balsam is guaranteed to cure all coughs. "No cure, no pay." For sale by all dealers. William Saar, of 526 Irving avenue, has followed the steel mills, and will make his future home in Buffalo.

Pauline Compton, of Elmshade, is the guest of friends on Pittston avenue. DUNMORE. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, evangelists, who have been working for two weeks in the Dudley Street Baptist church, will stay one week more. Their meetings present the elements of success. Yesterday Mr. Wilson preached two very interesting sermons. In the morning the topic was "Why Must We Be Born Again?" The evening subject was "Meet Personal, and Trust God." Mr. Wilson has a host of illustrations at his command and is a most powerful speaker. Mrs. Wilson has charge of the singing. Her singing is treated to Dunmore people. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, assisted by Miss Edwards, an eloquentist, will give a concert in the school. Mrs. Wilson will give a number of solos. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will render several duets. The programme will be interspersed with recitations by Miss Edwards. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have for the past eight days given a robust every Monday evening. They have become quite popular in their work in Dunmore. Tickets of admission can be secured free of charge from any number of churches.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is hoped that every member of the society will be present at this time. At the Methodist church yesterday the service was in charge of the Sunday school. The large edifice had been attractively decorated with an abundance of green and flowering plants and presented a very pretty appearance. A programme entitled "Easter Day" was rendered in a manner that showed the careful work of the instructors had not been vain. The programme and those participating was as follows: Antoin, choir selection, Miss Lulu Malins; prayer, Rev. Charles H. Newing; opening address, Fred Keller; Scripture reading, Superintendent Daniel Powell; address, Mary Seeger; song, "O He Gilds"; prayer, "An Easter Flower"; the Junior Manual; recitation, "He Lives"; Elsa Barthmann; song, "O' Night, Wonderful Night"; recitation, "The Conqueror of
